Form for submitting ID documents

Everyone who applies for a residence permit in Norway is obliged to assist in clarifying their identity. Appellants who have a passport must hand this in. Other documents may also be accepted as proof of identity. As a rule, the identity of the appellant must be substantiated before a residence permit can be granted. We make an overall assessment of all the information and documents presented. If you have previously presented ID documents to the Norwegian immigration authorities, you do not have to present them again. ID documents must be sent to UNE in connection with appeals against the rejection of first-time applications and requests for reversal of UNE's decisions.

The form must be printed and signed by hand. The form must be sent together with the ID documents. If more than one family member sends in ID documents, one form must be completed by each person.

The form can be sent to: Utlendingsnemnda, Postboks 2108 Vika, 0125 Oslo
